

Our Ref. No.: NITA/RGD/23/4/27

APRIL 27, 2023

THE REGISTRAR GENERAL
REGISTRAR GENERAL'S DEPARTMENT
ACCRA

REMINDER TO UPLOAD DATA ONTO THE OPEN DATA PORTAL (DATA.GOV)

The National Information Technology Agency (NITA) sends its compliments and reverently writes to acknowledge the Registrar General's Department's support over the years in publishing data on the Ghana Open Data Initiative (GODI) platform (<https://data.gov.gh>).

With reference to the two-day Data Upload Challenge held on 2nd and 3rd April 2019, of which your Department nominated Mad. Cynthia Akpe-Doe and Praise Matanawue to participate. The role played by your officers resulted in GODI placing a third position in the Global Open Government Partnership Impact Award in Seoul, South Korea

NITA wishes to remind you of your commitment to upload data onto the open data portal.

The Ghana Open Data Initiative begun in 2012 to ensure that Government data will be open and easily accessible to the public. In fulfilment of the commitments under the Open Data Partnership, the Ministry of Communications and Digitalisation under the e-Transform project redeveloped the open data portal, developed a data sharing policy with an open data component and trained One Hundred and Fifty-Four (154) government officials.

The open data portal exists to ensure transparency and accountability, improved public services and economic growth. The home page shows datasets, categories of sectors, data sites, an open data community and a feedback option. It is also capable of doing analytics to interpret the data.

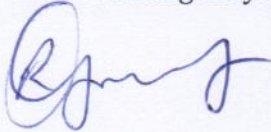

It is imperative to note that NITA, is also making efforts to address the underneath issues to enhance the GODI portal as a destination for credible data for government institutions, citizens and academia;

- Missing Key Variables in Datasets
- Data Visualization
- Up-to-date data

The purpose of this letter is therefore to reiterate the relevance of the Registrar General's Department's timely update of data onto the open data platform for stakeholders.

Please, do not hesitate to contact NITA via regulatory@nita.gov.gh / secretariat@data.gov.gh for further information and clarification.

We are counting on your usual cooperation.

A handwritten signature in blue ink, appearing to read 'R. Okyere-Fosu', is written above the printed name.

RICHARD OKYERE-FOSU
DIRECTOR GENERAL

Our Ref. No.: NITA/GIPC/23/4/27

APRIL 27, 2023

THE CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER
GHANA INVESTMENT PROMOTION CENTRE
ACCRA

REMINDER TO UPLOAD DATA ONTO THE OPEN DATA PORTAL (DATA.GOV)

The National Information Technology Agency (NITA) sends its compliments and reverently writes to acknowledge the Ghana Investment Promotion Centre's support over the years in publishing data on the Ghana Open Data Initiative (GODI) platform (<https://data.gov.gh>).

With reference to the two-day Data Upload Challenge held on 2nd and 3rd April 2019, of which your Institution nominated Mr. Edmund Onyame and Mad. Mildred Ashong to participate. The role played by your officers resulted in GODI placing a third position in the Global Open Government Partnership Impact Award in Seoul, South Korea

NITA wishes to remind you of your commitment to upload data onto the open data portal.

The Ghana Open Data Initiative begun in 2012 to ensure that Government data will be open and easily accessible to the public. In fulfilment of the commitments under the Open Data Partnership, the Ministry of Communications and Digitalisation under the e-Transform project redeveloped the open data portal, developed a data sharing policy with an open data component and trained One Hundred and Fifty-Four (154) government officials.

The open data portal exists to ensure transparency and accountability, improved public services and economic growth. The home page shows datasets, categories of sectors, data sites, an open data community and a feedback option. It is also capable of doing analytics to interpret the data.

It is imperative to note that NITA, is also making efforts to address the underneath issues to enhance the GODI portal as a destination for credible data for government institutions, citizens and academia;

- Missing Key Variables in Datasets
- Data Visualization
- Up-to-date data

The purpose of this letter is therefore to reiterate the relevance of the Ghana Investment Promotion Centre's timely update of data onto the open data platform for stakeholders.

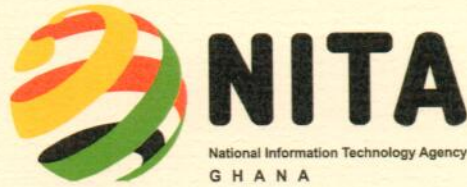

Please, do not hesitate to contact NITA via regulatory@nita.gov.gh / secretariat@data.gov.gh for further information and clarification.

We are counting on your usual cooperation.

RICHARD OKYERE-FOSU

DIRECTOR GENERAL

Our Ref. No.: NITA/PPA/23/4/27

APRIL 27, 2023

THE CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER
PUBLIC PROCUREMENT AUTHORITY
ACCRA

REMINDER TO UPLOAD DATA ONTO THE OPEN DATA PORTAL (DATA.GOV)

The National Information Technology Agency (NITA) sends its compliments and reverently writes to acknowledge the Public Procurement Authority's support over the years in publishing data on the Ghana Open Data Initiative (GODI) platform (<https://data.gov.gh>).

With reference to the two-day Data Upload Challenge held on 2nd and 3rd April 2019, of which your Authority nominated Mr. Gideon Sandinah and Mad. Marian Oteng to participate. The role played by your officers resulted in GODI placing a third position in the Global Open Government Partnership Impact Award in Seoul, South Korea

NITA wishes to remind you of your commitment to upload data onto the open data portal.

The Ghana Open Data Initiative begun in 2012 to ensure that Government data will be open and easily accessible to the public. In fulfilment of the commitments under the Open Data Partnership, the Ministry of Communications and Digitalisation under the e-Transform project redeveloped the open data portal, developed a data sharing policy with an open data component and trained One Hundred and Fifty-Four (154) government officials.

The open data portal exists to ensure transparency and accountability, improved public services and economic growth. The home page shows datasets, categories of sectors, data sites, an open data community and a feedback option. It is also capable of doing analytics to interpret the data.

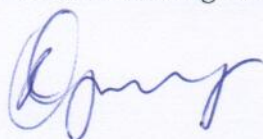

It is imperative to note that NITA, is also making efforts to address the underneath issues to enhance the GODI portal as a destination for credible data for government institutions, citizens and academia;

- Missing Key Variables in Datasets
- Data Visualization
- Up-to-date data

The purpose of this letter is therefore to reiterate the relevance of Public Procurement Authority's timely update of data onto the open data platform for stakeholders.

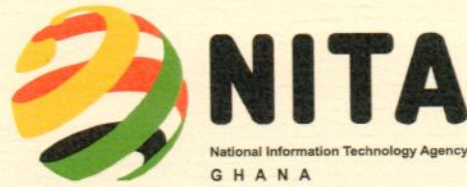

Please, do not hesitate to contact NITA via regulatory@nita.gov.gh / secretariat@data.gov.gh for further information and clarification.

We are counting on your usual cooperation.

RICHARD OKYERE-FOSU

DIRECTOR GENERAL

Our Ref. No.: NITA/MOFA/23/4/27

APRIL 27, 2023

THE CHIEF DIRECTOR
MINISTRY OF FOOD AND AGRICULTURE
ACCRA

REMINDER TO UPLOAD DATA ONTO THE OPEN DATA PORTAL (DATA.GOV)

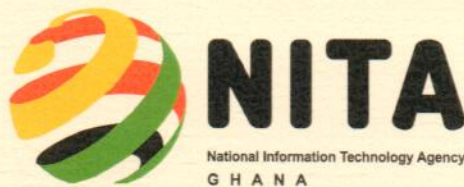

The National Information Technology Agency (NITA) sends its compliments and reverently writes to acknowledge the Ministry of Food Agriculture's support over the years in publishing data on the Ghana Open Data Initiative (GODI) platform (<https://data.gov.gh>).

With reference to the two-day Data Upload Challenge held on 2nd and 3rd April 2019, of which your Ministry nominated Mr. Isaac Doe A Yepka, Nana Samatha Yakubu and Mr. Michael Tetteh to participate. The role played by your officers resulted in GODI placing a third position in the Global Open Government Partnership Impact Award in Seoul, South Korea

NITA wishes to remind you of your commitment to upload data onto the open data portal.

The Ghana Open Data Initiative begun in 2012 to ensure that Government data will be open and easily accessible to the public. In fulfilment of the commitments under the Open Data Partnership, the Ministry of Communications and Digitalisation under the e-Transform project redeveloped the open data portal, developed a data sharing policy with an open data component and trained One Hundred and Fifty-Four (154) government officials.

The open data portal exists to ensure transparency and accountability, improved public services and economic growth. The home page shows datasets, categories of sectors, data sites, an open data community and a feedback option. It is also capable of doing analytics to interpret the data.

Our Ref. No.: NITA/MLGDRD/23/4/27

APRIL 27, 2023

THE CHIEF DIRECTOR
MINISTRY OF LOCAL GOVERNMENT,
DECENTRALISATION AND RURAL DEVELOPMENT
ACCRA.

REMINDER TO UPLOAD DATA ONTO THE OPEN DATA PORTAL (DATA.GOV)

The National Information Technology Agency (NITA) sends its compliments and reverently writes to acknowledge the Local Government, Decentralisation and Rural Development's support over the years in publishing data on the Ghana Open Data Initiative (GODI) platform (<https://data.gov.gh>).

With reference to the two-day Data Upload Challenge held on 2nd and 3rd April 2019, of which your Ministry nominated Mr. Raphael Edu-Gyan and Mr. Kassin Rabbi Bakari to participate. The role played by your officers resulted in GODI placing a third position in the Global Open Government Partnership Impact Award in Seoul, South Korea

NITA wishes to remind you of your commitment to upload data onto the open data portal.

The Ghana Open Data Initiative begun in 2012 to ensure that Government data will be open and easily accessible to the public. In fulfilment of the commitments under the Open Data Partnership, the Ministry of Communications and Digitalisation under the e-Transform project redeveloped the open data portal, developed a data sharing policy with an open data component and trained One Hundred and Fifty-Four (154) government officials.

The open data portal exists to ensure transparency and accountability, improved public services and economic growth. The home page shows datasets, categories of sectors, data sites, an open data community and a feedback option. It is also capable of doing analytics to interpret the data.

It is imperative to note that NITA, is also making efforts to address the underneath issues to enhance the GODI portal as a destination for credible data for government institutions, citizens and academia;

- Missing Key Variables in Datasets
- Data Visualization
- Up-to-date data

The purpose of this letter is therefore to reiterate the relevance of the Ministry of Local Government, Decentralisation and Rural Development's timely update of data onto the open data platform for stakeholders.

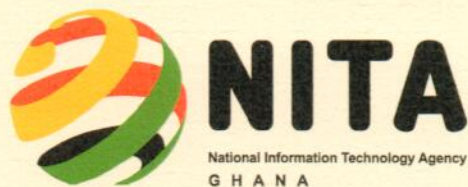

Please, do not hesitate to contact NITA via regulatory@nita.gov.gh / secretariat@data.gov.gh for further information and clarification.

We are counting on your usual cooperation.

RICHARD OKYERE-FOSU

DIRECTOR GENERAL

Our Ref. No.: NITA/MOE/23/4/27

APRIL 27, 2023

THE CHIEF DIRECTOR
MINISTRY OF EDUCATION
ACCRA

REMINDER TO UPLOAD DATA ONTO THE OPEN DATA PORTAL (DATA.GOV)

The National Information Technology Agency (NITA) sends its compliments and reverently writes to acknowledge the Ministry of Education's support over the years in publishing data on the Ghana Open Data Initiative (GODI) platform (<https://data.gov.gh>).

With reference to the two-day Data Upload Challenge held on 2nd and 3rd April 2019, of which your Ministry nominated Mr. Herbert Gorman and Mr. Sammy Amfo to participate. The role played by your officers resulted in GODI placing a third position in the Global Open Government Partnership Impact Award in Seoul, South Korea

NITA wishes to remind you of your commitment to upload data onto the open data portal.

The Ghana Open Data Initiative begun in 2012 to ensure that Government data will be open and easily accessible to the public. In fulfilment of the commitments under the Open Data Partnership, the Ministry of Communications and Digitalisation under the e-Transform project redeveloped the open data portal, developed a data sharing policy with an open data component and trained One Hundred and Fifty-Four (154) government officials.

The open data portal exists to ensure transparency and accountability, improved public services and economic growth. The home page shows datasets, categories of sectors, data sites, an open data community and a feedback option. It is also capable of doing analytics to interpret the data.

It is imperative to note that NITA, is also making efforts to address the underneath issues to enhance the GODI portal as a destination for credible data for government institutions, citizens and academia;

- Missing Key Variables in Datasets
- Data Visualization
- Up-to-date data

The purpose of this letter is therefore to reiterate the relevance of the Ministry of Education's timely update of data onto the open data platform for stakeholders.

Please, do not hesitate to contact NITA via regulatory@nita.gov.gh / secretariat@data.gov.gh for further information and clarification.

We are counting on your usual cooperation.

RICHARD OKYERE-FOSU
DIRECTOR GENERAL

Our Ref. No.: NITA/MOFAD/23/4/27

APRIL 27, 2023

THE CHIEF DIRECTOR
MINISTRY OF FISHERIES AND AQUACULTURE DEVELOPMENT
ACCRA

REMINDER TO UPLOAD DATA ONTO THE OPEN DATA PORTAL (DATA.GOV)

The National Information Technology Agency (NITA) sends its compliments and reverently writes to acknowledge the Ministry of Fisheries and Aquaculture's support over the years in publishing data on the Ghana Open Data Initiative (GODI) platform (<https://data.gov.gh>).

With reference to the two-day Data Upload Challenge held on 2nd and 3rd April 2019, of which your Ministry nominated Mr. Isaac Osei and Mr. Selorm Tsatsu Gbedemah to participate. The role played by your officers resulted in GODI placing a third position in the Global Open Government Partnership Impact Award in Seoul, South Korea

NITA wishes to remind you of your commitment to upload data onto the open data portal.

The Ghana Open Data Initiative begun in 2012 to ensure that Government data will be open and easily accessible to the public. In fulfilment of the commitments under the Open Data Partnership, the Ministry of Communications and Digitalisation under the e-Transform project redeveloped the open data portal, developed a data sharing policy with an open data component and trained One Hundred and Fifty-Four (154) government officials.

The open data portal exists to ensure transparency and accountability, improved public services and economic growth. The home page shows datasets, categories of sectors, data sites, an open data community and a feedback option. It is also capable of doing analytics to interpret the data.

It is imperative to note that NITA, is also making efforts to address the underneath issues to enhance the GODI portal as a destination for credible data for government institutions, citizens and academia;

- Missing Key Variables in Datasets
- Data Visualization
- Up-to-date data

The purpose of this letter is therefore to reiterate the relevance of the Ministry of Fisheries and Aquaculture's timely update of data onto the open data platform for stakeholders.

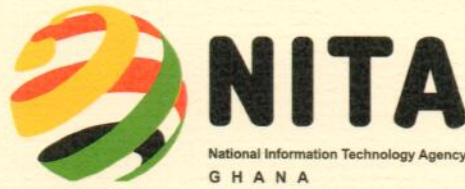

Please, do not hesitate to contact NITA via regulatory@nita.gov.gh / secretariat@data.gov.gh for further information and clarification.

We are counting on your usual cooperation.

RICHARD OKYERE-FOSU

DIRECTOR GENERAL

Our Ref. No.: NITA/MOFEP/23/4/27

APRIL 27, 2023

THE CHIEF DIRECTOR
MINISTRY OF FINANCE
ACCRA

REMINDER TO UPLOAD DATA ONTO THE OPEN DATA PORTAL (DATA.GOV)

The National Information Technology Agency (NITA) sends its compliments and reverently writes to acknowledge the Ministry of Finance's support over the years in publishing data on the Ghana Open Data Initiative (GODI) platform (<https://data.gov.gh>).

With reference to the two-day Data Upload Challenge held on 2nd and 3rd April 2019, of which your Ministry nominated Mad. Jeremiah Asiamah and to participate. The role played by your officers resulted in GODI placing a third position in the Global Open Government Partnership Impact Award in Seoul, South Korea

NITA wishes to remind you of your commitment to upload data onto the open data portal.

The Ghana Open Data Initiative begun in 2012 to ensure that Government data will be open and easily accessible to the public. In fulfilment of the commitments under the Open Data Partnership, the Ministry of Communications and Digitalisation under the e-Transform project redeveloped the open data portal, developed a data sharing policy with an open data component and trained One Hundred and Fifty-Four (154) government officials.

The open data portal exists to ensure transparency and accountability, improved public services and economic growth. The home page shows datasets, categories of sectors, data sites, an open data community and a feedback option. It is also capable of doing analytics to interpret the data.

It is imperative to note that NITA, is also making efforts to address the underneath issues to enhance the GODI portal as a destination for credible data for government institutions, citizens and academia;

- Missing Key Variables in Datasets
- Data Visualization
- Up-to-date data

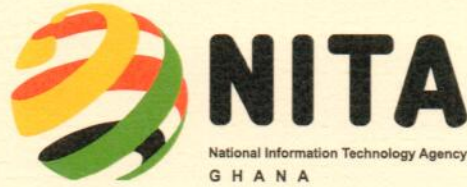

The purpose of this letter is therefore to reiterate the relevance of the Ministry of Finance's timely update of data onto the open data platform for stakeholders.

Please, do not hesitate to contact NITA via regulatory@nita.gov.gh / secretariat@data.gov.gh for further information and clarification.

We are counting on your usual cooperation.

RICHARD OKYERE-FOSU
DIRECTOR GENERAL

Our Ref. No.: NITA/GRA/23/4/27

APRIL 27, 2023

THE COMMISSIONER GENERAL
GHANA REVENUE AUTHORITY
ACCRA

REMINDER TO UPLOAD DATA ONTO THE OPEN DATA PORTAL (DATA.GOV)

The National Information Technology Agency (NITA) sends its compliments and reverently writes to acknowledge the Ghana Revenue Authority's support over the years in publishing data on the Ghana Open Data Initiative (GODI) platform (<https://data.gov.gh>).

With reference to the two-day Data Upload Challenge held on 2nd and 3rd April 2019, of which your Authority nominated Mr. Augustine Pereira and Mr. Hansen Anaman to participate. The role played by your officers resulted in GODI placing a third position in the Global Open Government Partnership Impact Award in Seoul, South Korea

NITA wishes to remind you of your commitment to upload data onto the open data portal.

The Ghana Open Data Initiative begun in 2012 to ensure that Government data will be open and easily accessible to the public. In fulfilment of the commitments under the Open Data Partnership, the Ministry of Communications and Digitalisation under the e-Transform project redeveloped the open data portal, developed a data sharing policy with an open data component and trained One Hundred and Fifty-Four (154) government officials.

The open data portal exists to ensure transparency and accountability, improved public services and economic growth. The home page shows datasets, categories of sectors, data sites, an open data community and a feedback option. It is also capable of doing analytics to interpret the data.

It is imperative to note that NITA, is also making efforts to address the underneath issues to enhance the GODI portal as a destination for credible data for government institutions, citizens and academia;

- Missing Key Variables in Datasets
- Data Visualization
- Up-to-date data

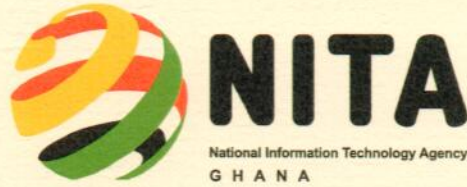

The purpose of this letter is therefore to reiterate the relevance of the Ghana Revenue Authority's timely update of data onto the open data platform for stakeholders.

Please, do not hesitate to contact NITA via regulatory@nita.gov.gh / secretariat@data.gov.gh for further information and clarification.

We are counting on your usual cooperation.

RICHARD OKYERE-FOSU
DIRECTOR GENERAL

Our Ref. No.: NITA/GEITI/23/4/27

APRIL 27, 2023

THE DIRECTOR GENERAL
GHANA EXECUTIVE INDUSTRY TRANSPARENCY INITIATIVE
ACCRA

REMINDER TO UPLOAD DATA ONTO THE OPEN DATA PORTAL (DATA.GOV)

The National Information Technology Agency (NITA) sends its compliments and reverently writes to acknowledge the Ghana Executive Industry Transparency Initiative's support over the years in publishing data on the Ghana Open Data Initiative (GODI) platform (<https://data.gov.gh>).

With reference to the two-day Data Upload Challenge held on 2nd and 3rd April 2019, of which your Institution nominated Mad. Victoria Benson and to participate. The role played by your officers resulted in GODI placing a third position in the Global Open Government Partnership Impact Award in Seoul, South Korea

NITA wishes to remind you of your commitment to upload data onto the open data portal.

The Ghana Open Data Initiative begun in 2012 to ensure that Government data will be open and easily accessible to the public. In fulfilment of the commitments under the Open Data Partnership, the Ministry of Communications and Digitalisation under the e-Transform project redeveloped the open data portal, developed a data sharing policy with an open data component and trained One Hundred and Fifty-Four (154) government officials.

The open data portal exists to ensure transparency and accountability, improved public services and economic growth. The home page shows datasets, categories of sectors, data sites, an open data community and a feedback option. It is also capable of doing analytics to interpret the data.

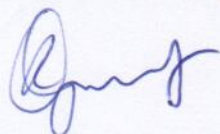

It is imperative to note that NITA, is also making efforts to address the underneath issues to enhance the GODI portal as a destination for credible data for government institutions, citizens and academia;

- Missing Key Variables in Datasets
- Data Visualization
- Up-to-date data

The purpose of this letter is therefore to reiterate the relevance of the Ghana Executive Industry Transparency Initiative's timely update of data onto the open data platform for stakeholders.

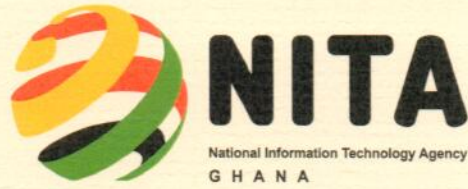

Please, do not hesitate to contact NITA via regulatory@nita.gov.gh / secretariat@data.gov.gh for further information and clarification.

We are counting on your usual cooperation.

RICHARD OKYERE-FOSU

DIRECTOR GENERAL

Our Ref. No.: NITA/GPCL/23/4/27

APRIL 27, 2023

THE DIRECTOR GENERAL
GHANA POST COMPANY LTD
ACCRA

REMINDER TO UPLOAD DATA ONTO THE OPEN DATA PORTAL (DATA.GOV)

The National Information Technology Agency (NITA) sends its compliments and reverently writes to acknowledge the Ghana Post Company Ltd's support over the years in publishing data on the Ghana Open Data Initiative (GODI) platform (<https://data.gov.gh>).

With reference to the two-day Data Upload Challenge held on 2nd and 3rd April 2019, of which your Company nominated Mr. Jonathan Ansah and Mr. Eric Adomako to participate. The role played by your officers resulted in GODI placing a third position in the Global Open Government Partnership Impact Award in Seoul, South Korea

NITA wishes to remind you of your commitment to upload data onto the open data portal.

The Ghana Open Data Initiative begun in 2012 to ensure that Government data will be open and easily accessible to the public. In fulfilment of the commitments under the Open Data Partnership, the Ministry of Communications and Digitalisation under the e-Transform project redeveloped the open data portal, developed a data sharing policy with an open data component and trained One Hundred and Fifty-Four (154) government officials.

The open data portal exists to ensure transparency and accountability, improved public services and economic growth. The home page shows datasets, categories of sectors, data sites, an open data community and a feedback option. It is also capable of doing analytics to interpret the data.

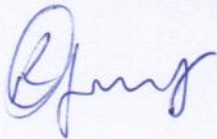

It is imperative to note that NITA, is also making efforts to address the underneath issues to enhance the GODI portal as a destination for credible data for government institutions, citizens and academia;

- Missing Key Variables in Datasets
- Data Visualization
- Up-to-date data

The purpose of this letter is therefore to reiterate the relevance of the Ghana Post Company Ltd's timely update of data onto the open data platform for stakeholders.

Please, do not hesitate to contact NITA via regulatory@nita.gov.gh / secretariat@data.gov.gh for further information and clarification.

We are counting on your usual cooperation.

RICHARD OKYERE-FOSU

DIRECTOR GENERAL

Our Ref. No.: NITA/NDPC/23/4/27

APRIL 27, 2023

THE DIRECTOR GENERAL
NATIONAL DEVELOPMENT PLANNING COMMISSION
ACCRA

REMINDER TO UPLOAD DATA ONTO THE OPEN DATA PORTAL (DATA.GOV)

The National Information Technology Agency (NITA) sends its compliments and reverently writes to acknowledge the National Development Planning Commission's support over the years in publishing data on the Ghana Open Data Initiative (GODI) platform (<https://data.gov.gh>).

With reference to the two-day Data Upload Challenge held on 2nd and 3rd April 2019, of which your Commission nominated Mr. Michael Kissi Boateng and Mr. Eric Boakye Kodua to participate. The role played by your officers resulted in GODI placing a third position in the Global Open Government Partnership Impact Award in Seoul, South Korea

NITA wishes to remind you of your commitment to upload data onto the open data portal.

The Ghana Open Data Initiative begun in 2012 to ensure that Government data will be open and easily accessible to the public. In fulfilment of the commitments under the Open Data Partnership, the Ministry of Communications and Digitalisation under the e-Transform project redeveloped the open data portal, developed a data sharing policy with an open data component and trained One Hundred and Fifty-Four (154) government officials.

The open data portal exists to ensure transparency and accountability, improved public services and economic growth. The home page shows datasets, categories of sectors, data sites, an open data community and a feedback option. It is also capable of doing analytics to interpret the data.

It is imperative to note that NITA, is also making efforts to address the underneath issues to enhance the GODI portal as a destination for credible data for government institutions, citizens and academia;

- Missing Key Variables in Datasets
- Data Visualization
- Up-to-date data

The purpose of this letter is therefore to reiterate the relevance of the National Development Planning Commission's timely update of data onto the open data platform for stakeholders.

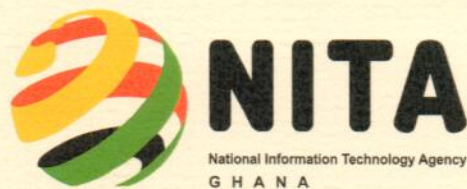

Please, do not hesitate to contact NITA via regulatory@nita.gov.gh / secretariat@data.gov.gh for further information and clarification.

We are counting on your usual cooperation.

RICHARD OKYERE-FOSU

DIRECTOR GENERAL

Our Ref. No.: NITA/ENC/23/4/27

APRIL 27, 2023

THE EXECUTIVE SECRETARY
ENERGY COMMISSION
ACCRA

REMINDER TO UPLOAD DATA ONTO THE OPEN DATA PORTAL (DATA.GOV)

The National Information Technology Agency (NITA) sends its compliments and reverently writes to acknowledge the Energy Commission's support over the years in publishing data on the Ghana Open Data Initiative (GODI) platform (<https://data.gov.gh>).

With reference to the two-day Data Upload Challenge held on 2nd and 3rd April 2019, of which your Commission nominated Mr. Cephass Linson and Mr. Felix Yeboah Koranteng to participate. The role played by your officers resulted in GODI placing a third position in the Global Open Government Partnership Impact Award in Seoul, South Korea

NITA wishes to remind you of your commitment to upload data onto the open data portal.

The Ghana Open Data Initiative began in 2012 to ensure that Government data will be open and easily accessible to the public. In fulfilment of the commitments under the Open Data Partnership, the Ministry of Communications and Digitalisation under the e-Transform project redeveloped the open data portal, developed a data sharing policy with an open data component and trained One Hundred and Fifty-Four (154) government officials.

The open data portal exists to ensure transparency and accountability, improved public services and economic growth. The home page shows datasets, categories of sectors, data sites, an open data community and a feedback option. It is also capable of doing analytics to interpret the data.

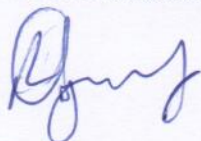

It is imperative to note that NITA, is also making efforts to address the underneath issues to enhance the GODI portal as a destination for credible data for government institutions, citizens and academia;

- Missing Key Variables in Datasets
- Data Visualization
- Up-to-date data

The purpose of this letter is therefore to reiterate the relevance of the Energy Commission's timely update of data onto the open data platform for stakeholders.

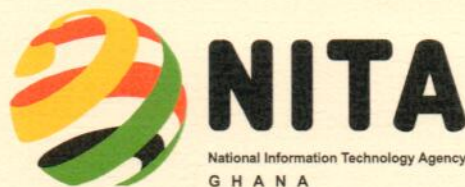

Please, do not hesitate to contact NITA via regulatory@nita.gov.gh / secretariat@data.gov.gh for further information and clarification.

We are counting on your usual cooperation.

RICHARD OKYERE-FOSU

DIRECTOR GENERAL

Our Ref. No.: NITA/LC/23/4/27

APRIL 27, 2023

THE DIRECTOR GENERAL
LANDS COMMISSION
ACCRA

REMINDER TO UPLOAD DATA ONTO THE OPEN DATA PORTAL (DATA.GOV)

The National Information Technology Agency (NITA) sends its compliments and reverently writes to acknowledge the Land Commission's support over the years in publishing data on the Ghana Open Data Initiative (GODI) platform (<https://data.gov.gh>).

With reference to the two-day Data Upload Challenge held on 2nd and 3rd April 2019, of which your Commission nominated Mr. Kwabena Boafo and Mr. Isaac Afful to participate. The role played by your officers resulted in GODI placing a third position in the Global Open Government Partnership Impact Award in Seoul, South Korea

NITA wishes to remind you of your commitment to upload data onto the open data portal.

The Ghana Open Data Initiative begun in 2012 to ensure that Government data will be open and easily accessible to the public. In fulfilment of the commitments under the Open Data Partnership, the Ministry of Communications and Digitalisation under the e-Transform project redeveloped the open data portal, developed a data sharing policy with an open data component and trained One Hundred and Fifty-Four (154) government officials.

The open data portal exists to ensure transparency and accountability, improved public services and economic growth. The home page shows datasets, categories of sectors, data sites, an open data community and a feedback option. It is also capable of doing analytics to interpret the data.

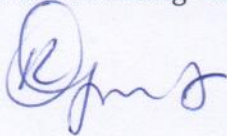

It is imperative to note that NITA, is also making efforts to address the underneath issues to enhance the GODI portal as a destination for credible data for government institutions, citizens and academia;

- Missing Key Variables in Datasets
- Data Visualization
- Up-to-date data

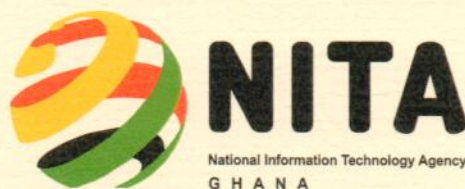

The purpose of this letter is therefore to reiterate the relevance of the Land Commission's timely update of data onto the open data platform for stakeholders.

Please, do not hesitate to contact NITA via regulatory@nita.gov.gh / secretariat@data.gov.gh for further information and clarification.

We are counting on your usual cooperation.

A handwritten signature in blue ink, appearing to read 'R. Okyere-Fosu', is written above the printed name.

RICHARD OKYERE-FOSU
DIRECTOR GENERAL

Our Ref. No.: NITA/GSS/23/4/27

APRIL 27, 2023

THE GOVERNMENT STATISTICIAN
GHANA STATISTICAL SERVICE
ACCRA

REMINDER TO UPLOAD DATA ONTO THE OPEN DATA PORTAL (DATA.GOV)

The National Information Technology Agency (NITA) sends its compliments and reverently writes to acknowledge the Ghana Statistical Service's support over the years in publishing data on the Ghana Open Data Initiative (GODI) platform (<https://data.gov.gh>).

With reference to the two-day Data Upload Challenge held on 2nd and 3rd April 2019, of which your Institution nominated Mr. Mark A. Dadzie to participate. The role played by your officers resulted in GODI placing a third position in the Global Open Government Partnership Impact Award in Seoul, South Korea

NITA wishes to remind you of your commitment to upload data onto the open data portal.

The Ghana Open Data Initiative begun in 2012 to ensure that Government data will be open and easily accessible to the public. In fulfilment of the commitments under the Open Data Partnership, the Ministry of Communications and Digitalisation under the e-Transform project redeveloped the open data portal, developed a data sharing policy with an open data component and trained One Hundred and Fifty-Four (154) government officials.

The open data portal exists to ensure transparency and accountability, improved public services and economic growth. The home page shows datasets, categories of sectors, data sites, an open data community and a feedback option. It is also capable of doing analytics to interpret the data.

It is imperative to note that NITA, is also making efforts to address the underneath issues to enhance the GODI portal as a destination for credible data for government institutions, citizens and academia;

- Missing Key Variables in Datasets
- Data Visualization
- Up-to-date data

The purpose of this letter is therefore to reiterate the relevance of Ghana Statistical Service's timely update of data onto the open data platform for stakeholders.

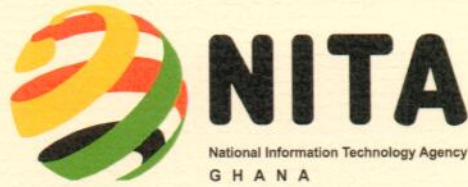

Please, do not hesitate to contact NITA via regulatory@nita.gov.gh / secretariat@data.gov.gh for further information and clarification.

We are counting on your usual cooperation.

RICHARD OKYERE-FOSU

DIRECTOR GENERAL

Our Ref. No.: NITA/MES/23/4/27

APRIL 27, 2023

THE NATIONAL COORDINATOR
MONITORING AND EVALUATION SECRETARIAT
ACCRA

REMINDER TO UPLOAD DATA ONTO THE OPEN DATA PORTAL (DATA.GOV)

The National Information Technology Agency (NITA) sends its compliments and reverently writes to acknowledge the Monitoring and Evaluation Secretariat's support over the years in publishing data on the Ghana Open Data Initiative (GODI) platform (<https://data.gov.gh>).

With reference to the two-day Data Upload Challenge held on 2nd and 3rd April 2019, of which your Secretariat nominated Mr. Raymond Mensah and Mr. Alhassan Abdul-Jaliliu to participate. The role played by your officers resulted in GODI placing a third position in the Global Open Government Partnership Impact Award in Seoul, South Korea

NITA wishes to remind you of your commitment to upload data onto the open data portal.

The Ghana Open Data Initiative begun in 2012 to ensure that Government data will be open and easily accessible to the public. In fulfilment of the commitments under the Open Data Partnership, the Ministry of Communications and Digitalisation under the e-Transform project redeveloped the open data portal, developed a data sharing policy with an open data component and trained One Hundred and Fifty-Four (154) government officials.

The open data portal exists to ensure transparency and accountability, improved public services and economic growth. The home page shows datasets, categories of sectors, data sites, an open data community and a feedback option. It is also capable of doing analytics to interpret the data.

It is imperative to note that NITA, is also making efforts to address the underneath issues to enhance the GODI portal as a destination for credible data for government institutions, citizens and academia;

- Missing Key Variables in Datasets
- Data Visualization
- Up-to-date data

The purpose of this letter is therefore to reiterate the relevance of the Monitoring and Evaluation Secretariat's timely update of data onto the open data platform for stakeholders.

Please, do not hesitate to contact NITA via regulatory@nita.gov.gh / secretariat@data.gov.gh for further information and clarification.

We are counting on your usual cooperation.

RICHARD OKYERE-FOSU

DIRECTOR GENERAL